

I think the propsal to modify the Indiana telephone privacy act from the Consumers Banking Association should be rejected because it will violate the privacy of the citizens. The business should be able solicit through postal mail, but not by telephone.